(7) There is nothing in the scheme as originally laid out to show that these Probationers should be treated as Gazetted Officers when they are confirmed. On the other hand, the intention appears to be that their recruitment is in almost all cases to the upper subordinate ranks. The pay fixed to the Archaeological Probationer on confirmation, namely, 150-25/2-250, is lower than that usually fixed in the case of Gazetted Officers. Whether, in view of the fact that Mr. Rama Rao has been posted to look after the duties of the Director of Archaeological Researches during his absence on leave, he should be treated as a Gazetted Officer is a point for consideration.
